

Zetafax CommsEngine

Enables Independent Software Vendors to add fax capability to virtually any software application quickly, easily and reliably.

Benefits

Allows fast integration of new fax capability into your software

Reduces time to market and minimizes development cost

Differentiates your product for stronger competitive positioning

Uses reliable fax technology already deployed by 60,000 organizations worldwide

The Zetafax CommsEngine offers you the ability to fax-enable your software. It provides you with the fastest route to market possible by considerably shortening the software design and development process. By fax-enabling your software, your customers benefit from automated and streamlined business communications processes.

Using the Zetafax CommsEngine de-risks your product enhancement process, as the technology forms the core of the highly reliable Zetafax network fax software, already used by 60,000 organizations across 100 countries.

This means that the Zetafax CommsEngine technology is fully tried and tested, making it the intelligent choice for the fax component of your software.

Flexible and dependable faxing

The Zetafax CommsEngine offers a choice of fax submission methods including Visual Basic, text file submission and a COM interface.

The CommsEngine operates independently of your application, handling all fax functionality including submitting, queuing, retrying and sending of faxes as well as printing of all failed faxes if required. It also scales with your customers' business and is capable of supporting multiple fax lines and a range of fax hardware.

Benefits to your customers

The Zetafax CommsEngine automates and streamlines your customers' business communications. It reduces their time and cost overheads by replacing manual sending of documents, such as transaction confirmations or statements, with an automated faxing process.

Benefits to Independent Software Vendors (ISVs)

By using Zetafax CommsEngine technology to fax-enable your software, you will enhance and differentiate your product, reduce your time to market and development costs, and benefit from a trusted and proven fax technology solution.

Equisys is one of the world's leading fax technology innovators.

Using the Zetafax CommsEngine to add fax capability to your products offers the following benefits:

- API supports automated text file submission, embedded addressing, DDE, and COM and C language libraries, enabling fax sending in less than 10 lines of code
- Provides reports of all successful communications, automatically logging and archiving sent faxes
- Generates reports and printouts of failed faxes so they can be sent by other means
- Allows monitoring and control of faxes, including message queuing, delayed send for off-peak faxing, retry, priority faxing and fax broadcast facilities
- Provides a choice of graphic overlays for professional business fax presentation, with automatic coversheet generation
- Platform support for Windows Server 2003, Windows NT 4.0, Windows XP Professional, and Windows 98.

Add-ons

For additional peace of mind, provide your customers with Zetafax Software Assurance and ensure they receive fax software upgrades free of charge for the next 1, 2, 3 or 5 years.

Next steps

Call Equisys and talk to us about the Zetafax CommsEngine. To get you started we will send you the Zetafax CommsEngine Software Developer Kit (SDK).*

The Zetafax CommsEngine SDK provides you with documentation to guide you in adding fax capability to your software, and includes sample source code and help files to assist you in completing the integration quickly and easily.

*The Zetafax CommsEngine SDK is provided free of charge to suitably qualified software vendors.

The Zetafax CommsEngine extends the functionality of your applications, adding value to your software quickly, seamlessly and cost-effectively.
